CENTRAL BREAKS PROHIBITION LAW, SAY DETECTIVES

Cases Made on Wednesday Against Railroad Company
and Against J. R. Thompson, the Chief Clerk.

WAGGONER CONSULTS WITH CITY ATTORNEY

Understood One Shipment,
Delivered in Atlanta Recently,
Contained Whisky,
Wine and Beer—Trial Set for June 24.

Charged with violating section 1640 of the city code of 1910, which means in the language of Locust street, "being a traveling blind tiger," cases were made Wednesday against the Central of Georgia railway and its chief clerk,
J. R. Thompson, by Detective Sergeant
"Bob" Waggoner Wednesday afternoon.

The cases grew out of the arrest of Doris Dean, N. A. Kahn and E. F.
Jones, several nights ago, charged with violating whisky ordinances at the Kimball house. The Dean woman was arrested for having received more liquor than the law allows, and the two men, who were registered under disorderly conduct charges, were alleged to have aided her in securing the liquor.

The amount of whisky which the Dean woman is said to have received in shipments from the Central of Georgia office was declared by detectives to be in excess of the law, although its exact amount could not be learned, although it is said that the shipment contained whisky, wine and beer.

Sergeant Waggoner consulted with City Attorney James L. Mayson, following the arrest of the three at the Kimball house, and after being held by the city attorney that the railroad had violated the law in allowing the woman to get the liquor, made cases against Thompson and the road.

On the station sergeant's blotter
the cases are registered against J. R.
Thompson and also against the Central of Georgia Railway company.

According to police station officials, Thompson will in all probability answer both charges or the superintendent of the Atlanta division of the road will be forced to answer to the charges registered against the railroad.

The trial has been set for Saturday afternoon, June 24, at 2:30 o'clock. Inasmuch as this is the first case made in Atlanta against a railroad since May 1, and the first test case of the recent opinion of the Central of Georgia attorneys that whisky, wine and beer might all be ordered under the new law, it is thought that the trial will create widespread interest and be largely attended by railway officials and others.

WIFE OF GEN. VILLA ARRESTED AT EL PASO

El Paso, Texas, June 21.—Mrs. Luz Torres Villa, wife of Francisco Villa, was arrested tonight and with her elder and her sister's child, about 5 years old, and a German nurse, Maria Hagador, was deported to Juarez upon orders from Mayor Lea, who gave no reason for the act.

Mrs. Villa arrived here today ostensibly from New Orleans, but the police believe she came from Los Angeles.
She said she intended to go to Chihuahua to look for her husband.

Grave Apprehension Felt at Washington As a Result of Clash

Officials Are Very Pessimistic in Regard to the Future Relations of the United States and Mexico.

WILSON WILL NOT ACT UNTIL OFFICIAL REPORT HAS BEEN FORWARDED

If the Clash Was Deliberate
Attempt to Back Carranza Edict by Force, There Is Little Doubt That Wilson
Will Accept It as Act of War and Proceed Accordingly.

Washington, June 21.—Reports that American and Carranza troops had clashed aroused grave apprehension here tonight for future relations between the United States and the Mexican de facto government, already strained almost to the breaking point.
Officials declined to make any prophecy as to the next step of the Washington government, saying that until details of the incident had been cleared up it could not be determined whether a crisis had been precipitated.
They made no effort to conceal their anxiety, but were not ready to abandon hope that an official account of what happened at Carrizal would remove the most threatening elements of the situation.

Much depends, it was indicated, on whether the clash was a result of General Carranza's determination to enforce his demand for withdrawal of American troops from Mexico or merely a misunderstanding between commanders.

MAY ACCEPT AS ACT OF WAR.

If it was a deliberate attempt to back up the Carranza edict by force
there seems little doubt that President Wilson will accept it as an act of war and make good his word in the latest communication to the de facto government, in which he said that any such attempt would be followed by
"the gravest consequences."

Whatever the outcome of the official investigation, however, it was according to every hand that the incident what it might mean. The story of the fight as given to General Bell by Consul Garcia at El Paso was forwarded to the war department by General Funston without comment. The wording of the dispatch led to the announcement by department officials that it contained a confirmation from American sources. The complete story, however, revealed that General Bell had no information except that given him by the Mexican consul. While it was not accepted in that form as final confirmation, officials indicated that they had no doubt some sort of a fight had occurred, though they doubted the consul's report that American troops had violated their orders and made an attack.

WILSON AWAITS OFFICIAL REPORT.

It seemed certain that President Wilson would await an official report before taking any drastic step in retaliation upon the Mexican forces. If an American commander precipitated an engagement this might have weight with the administration in determining its course. All commanders are under instructions of the most positive kind to avoid friction with the Mexican troops and they have no authority to attack any Mexican force.

The reports given out in Juarez do not indicate any intention on the part of the Mexicans to attack Pershing's main column.

There was no doubt at the war department that General Pershing would take immediate steps to relieve the detachment attacked, but it was said that he would undertake no offensive.
A formal offensive against the Carranza troops in northern Mexico would not be undertaken, it is believed, until General Funston's border guard had

GEORGIA STRIVING TO BREAK RECORD FOR ENLISTMENT

"Ready to Go Into Camp
Now, But We Might as Well Build Up to 142 Men," Says Nash.

GOVERNOR HARRIS PROUD OF THE STATE'S RECORD

Recruiting for the 5th Regiment Continues—Many Squads Are Sent to Nearby Towns to Secure Men.

Action Must Follow—Harris.

Governor Harris when told last night of the Mexican attack on General Pershing's troops, said:
"That means that the thing has come to a head. Action now necessarily must follow in rapid order, and I take it that the troops will be moving within ten days. Every command in the state will now fill rapidly whatever vacancy there is in its enlistment. I know, and I believe this state will be stronger than ever."

Governor Harris knew nothing further from Washington in regard to expediting the mobilization, but intimated that an immediate order was expected. General Van Holt Nash had received no further instruction from Washington, but was ready to act instantly any order comes.

Georgia military authorities are striving to establish a war preparedness record that will surpass that of any state in the union. This was evident from a statement by Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash yesterday afternoon to the effect that the state militia had already attained the distinction of mobilizing in record time, and that now it was being sought to add to this achievement by going into concentration camp with a record-breaking enlistment.

Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, relating Wednesday that Georgia has made a better record than any state in the union, so far as he has been able to ascertain, in that he was able to report to Governor Harris Tuesday evening that the national guard of this state then was ready for duty and awaiting orders from the war department, said:

"In doing this Georgians have shown the country where they stand when the country issues a call for service. Having established that record it is now within our power to add to it and build on it. If the patriotic sentiment thus far displayed by the people will aid us, it is not my purpose to order any of the commands into other mobilization camp for a day or two yet, only because there is no need for that. A subsistence fund is allowed each man in the service while on duty at his home station, and every one of the men will want as much time with his family as he can be allowed. At the same time we might as well use that time in adding as rapidly to the new enlistments as possible.

Ready for Camp Now.

"Some of the units in the national guard are not recruited up to the minimum strength of 65 men, while a considerable majority of them are over the peace strength. On that basis we are ready to go into camp now, but we might as well go ahead and give just as many of the units as can do so the opportunity to build up to the full war strength of 142 men. That will mean so much more to the credit of the state in this response, and there is room for hundreds of men more to do that."
"While it is a matter of pride that we were able to report 'ready' Tuesday afternoon, and is a record which will go into history for the Georgia national guard, our pride would be even greater,
of course, if we can now go into the mobilization camp with a greater par-

Trevino, Who Threatened Pershing, And Line Held by the Americans

General Trevino, the Mexican commander who warned Pershing that an advance by American troops would mean war, is an intimate personal friend of Venustiano Carranza, de facto president of Mexico. He commands about 20,000 troops, which have been maneuvered recently to be in a position to attack Pershing's column. The map shows the line held by the American soldiers under Pershing from Columbus, N. M., to Namiquipa, Mexico.

ENLISTMENT RUSH BREAKS RECORDS

129 Men Joined the Fifth Regiment Wednesday by 9 O'Clock at Night, With Others in Line.

A record was established yesterday when more than 120 men enlisted in the Fifth regiment. The names of 129 were recorded on the regiment books by 9:30 o'clock, while the work of enlistment continued far into the night. This is in accord with the prediction of Adjutant General J. Van Holt Nash, that Georgia, having already set a record for mobilization, will also distinguish herself by assembling the concentration camp with a record-breaking enlistment. The enlistment for Monday was 111, and for Tuesday 102.

BARBECUE FOR MILITIA

J. R. Cothern Proposes Feast and Heads List With $10.

How about a farewell barbecue for the boys in khaki? A feast for the officers and men of the Fifth regiment has been proposed by J. R. Cothern in a letter to The Constitution. Mr. Cothern, who at one time was first lieutenant of company F, of the Fifth, leads the way with a subscription of $10. His letter follows:

Editor Constitution: Let's give the officers and men of the Fifth regiment a parting barbecue to show our best wishes, etc.
I suggest this at either Piedmont park or Lakeview on the eve of their departure and hereby offer to head a subscription list with $10 for this purpose.
They certainly have my very best wishes for success.
Yours truly,
J. R. COTHERN,
Formerly First Lieutenant, Company F,
Fifth Regiment,
June 21, 1916.

HUGHES IS FAVORED BY COL. ROOSEVELT

Asserted Strong Pronouncement Will Be Made to Progressive Committee in Favor of G. O. P. Candidate.

Washington, June 21.—(Special.)— Theodore Roosevelt's letter to the executive committee of the progressive party, which is to be submitted next Monday, is expected by republicans here to contain a refusal of the nomination for president and a vigorous indorsement of Charles Evans Hughes.
This prediction was made today with great confidence.

While no one admits having seen the letter, it is known that the document has been prepared and submitted to some of Mr. Roosevelt's confi-dants. It is said to be a "vigorous pronouncement" even for Roosevelt, and will deal at some length with the issues of the campaign and especially the foreign situation, not overlooking Mexico.

The announcement of Mr. Roosevelt, though discounted, will undoubtedly have tremendous political significance.
It will mean the unification of the republican party. Although the progressive national committee would have the right to name another candidate, it is not believed they will do so. Indeed, they may nominate Mr. Hughes.

17 U. S. SOLDIERS HELD BY MEXICANS

They Were Captured in Battle Near Villa Ahumada—The Prisoners Will Be Taken to Chihuahua City.

Chihuahua City, June 21.—(Via El Paso.)—Orders were issued by General Trevino, commanding the Carranza army of the north, to bring the seventeen Americans captured today at Car-rizal to Chihuahua City under a heavy guard. Reports here place the entire blame for the encounter upon the American commander, it being asserted that in the eight hours preceding the engagement several warnings were sent them to withdraw.

The populace of the city, which remained quiet tonight, expresses sorrow over the death of General Gomez, one of the youngest and most popular leaders of the de facto army.

Troops—These Americans Say They Heard
Carranza Troops Boast That the United States Troops Were Decoyed Into a Trap—News of Battle Throws Border Into Fever of Excitement—Mexican Forces Preparing to Evacuate Juarez.

El Paso, Texas, June 21.—American and Carranza troops fought a sanguinary battle today on the Santo Domingo ranch, near the town of Carrizal, and tonight it had not been learned with which side rested the victory.
The number of dead, American or Mexican, was not definitely known here, but nearly a score of General Pershing's men are said to have been killed, and the Mexicans are said to have lost more than forty. Seventeen Americans are declared by Mexican officials to have been captured and to have been hurried to Chihuahua City under adequate guard. A machine gun used by the Mexicans is reported to have done heavy execution.

The scene of the fight was just nine miles southwest of Villa Ahumada, the Mexican field headquarters in northern Chihuahua, and the clash occurred only a few hours after President Wilson's 6,000-word note warning Carranza that the "gravest consequences" would follow and attack upon American troops had gone forward.

The Americans engaged are thought to have been members of a troop from the Tenth cavalry, a negro regiment, returning from a scouting trip to Guzman. The size of the Mexican force, whose commander, General Felix Gomez, was killed, is not known.

NEWS OF BATTLE KEPT SECRET BY THE MEXICAN COMMANDER.

News of the battle was received in Juarez early this afternoon by General Francisco Gonzales, Carranza commander of the military zone of the border. For some reason General Gonzales kept the story secret until late in the afternoon, when an American, J. C. Hubble, returning to the border from the interior, brought to El Paso the news that he had seen numbers of Mexican dead along the Mexican Central railroad tracks at Villa Ahumada, and had been told that there had been an encounter.

General Gonzales' first step after confirming the news was to issue a statement placing the blame on the American commander. He charged that the American troops fired first on the Mexicans, and that their shots were directed at a courier who had just presented to them a request that they retire.
American army officers declared absolute disbelief

tonight in General Gonzales' assertions. The opinion was expressed that if the Americans fired on the Mexicans they did so because it was necessary in order to insure their own safety.

General Trevino's recent warning to General Pershing not to send his troops east, south or west of their positions was recalled.

EXCITEMENT SPREAD IN EL PASO BUT ORDER WAS MAINTAINED.

Excitement spread in El Paso as extras were issued and the news became known. Quiet was maintained, however, in view of General Bell's frequent admonitions that his soldiers could take care of any situation that might arise. While awaiting instructions from headquarters at San Antonio, General Bell kept his entire force in readiness for instant action.

In the meantime, however, word came from Juarez that all was quiet, although the news of the battle was widespread there.

Early tonight the only official details of the engagement received here came from the Mexican side of the river. General Gonzales said that his information was transmitted to him from Villa Ahumada by Colonel Genoveso Rivas, who commanded the Mexicans after their leader, General Gomez, was slain. General Gonzales also gave the Mexican explanation of how the two forces came in contact.

According to General Gonzales, he was informed by General Gomez at Villa Ahumada last night of the presence of the Americans westward between Villa Ahumada and Ellevale. He says he immediately instructed General Gomez to proceed to the Santo Domingo ranch, where the Americans were reported in "unknown force," and advise their commander to retire to their camp.

This, he says, General Gomez did this morning. The American commander, whose name was not given by General Gomez, is said to have replied that he was instructed to proceed to Villa Ahumada and must do so.

TEXT OF STATEMENT ISSUED BY THE JUAREZ COMMANDER.

The statement issued by the Juarez commander read: "Immediately upon learning of the presence of the American troops in the vicinity of Carrizal, General Felix Gomez dispatched a messenger with a request that the American commander withdraw his camp. When the American troops remained motionless, he sent a second dispatch bearer, who was fired upon by the American troops after he had delivered his message. The Americans immediately moved forward and attacked General Gomez's command.

"All the prisoners admitted that the blame should be put on the American commander for having ordered the attack. The prisoners were sent to Chihuahua City with the customary protection."

General Gonzales said that the report of the engagement was made to him by Lieutenant Colonel Genoveso Rivas, who succeeded to the command of the Carranza troops with the fall of General Gomez.

MEXICANS HAD THE ADVANTAGE, FOR THEY USED A MACHINE GUN.

Whichever side began the engagement the Mexicans had the advantage, for they had provided themselves with a machine gun, and this is supposed to have done deadly execution in the ranks of the Americans. That the latter were not inefficient, however, was proved by the number of Mexican dead and wounded removed to Villa Ahumada and witnessed by Americans coming north on a train bound for Juarez.

The battle began about 10:30 a. m. and lasted not more than an hour. It apparently ended with both sides withdrawing. The failure of General Pershing to report on it indicated that the American survivors had not yet returned to their base early tonight.

A story brought to El Paso by J. C. Hubble, an American who has been employed by the Compania Agricola at Boquillas, bears out several of the details of the engagement presented by General Gomez. Hubble's story was corroborated by James Maxey, another American who also was on his way to El Paso from the interior. Hubble and Maxey said that while their train was stopping at Villa Ahumada they noticed numbers of dead and wounded being brought in and were told by a Carranza captain that a battle had taken place. The captain informed them, they said, that a number of American prisoners had been locked in a cattle car and were taken to Chihuahua City to be hanged.

They mentioned Mexican soldiers who told them that several hundred Americans and 120 Mexicans had been engaged.

"The Mexican officers at Villa Ahumada treated us with the greatest courtesy," said Mr. Hubble. "They answered our questions quietly and with no show of antipathy or excitement."

AMERICANS LURED INTO TRAP BY MEXICAN FLAG OF TRUCE.

"According to the story they told us, the Mexican command was concealed in the underbrush when it discovered the American cavalrymen riding toward them over the sand. General Felix Gomez, the Mexican commander, immediately sent a courier asking for a parley under a flag of truce with the American commander. The parley was arranged, and as the Mexican leader and two aides started forward the Americans suddenly deployed in a semi-circular skirmish line.

"General Gomez, apparently believing he was about to be attacked, raised his arm and signalled a machine gun in the rear to open fire on the Americans. The machine gun swept the cavalry ranks, causing heavy losses.

"Immediately, however, a detachment of American troopers dashed forward, under heavy fire, to the center of the field, where General Gomez and his staff were sitting on their horses. In the resultant encounter one of the cavalrymen killed the Mexican leader with his pistol, while the remainder of the Carranza party escaped to their own lines."

The two Americans said their information was that the American dead numbered 17, and that the Mexicans had taken 40 prisoners. Neither Maxey nor Hubble was able to learn whether the Mexicans had retreated, it being pointed out that all of the Mexicans with whom they talked apparently left the field before the engagement had been completed.

Hubble and Maxey said that some of the Mexicans openly boasted that the Americans had been drawn into an ambush.

MEXICAN GARRISON IS PREPARING FOR THE EVACUATION OF JUAREZ.

Late tonight preparations apparently were under way for the peaceful evacuation of Juarez. Several troop trains were pulled into the railroad yards ready for immediate use. Andreas Garcia, Mexican consul in El Paso, crossed the Rio Grande following the first reports of the engagement and remained with General Bell on the American side by telephone, however. Neither the consul nor the Mexican military authorities would discuss the report of the proposed evacuation.

A large number of citizens of the town were busy loading their household goods on vans and other vehicles ostensibly to transport them to the south.

Numerous persons gathered about the plaza immediately when news of the battle became public, but there were no demonstrations.

Mexicans apparently confined themselves to speculation as to the consequences. Heavy patrols were thrown into the streets with instructions to put down any disorders.

VICTORY CLAIMED FOR MEXICO.

At General Gonzales' headquarters a victory for Mexico was being claimed. The scene in the front room of the Comandancia, where the younger officers were gathered, was holiday-like. Several of them, speaking of the battle, said, "we won."

They remained composed, however, and made little reference to the incident.

Juarez first learned of the fight in a vague form in the early afternoon. The civilian population then began to pack their household goods.

Many already had left for interior points by a morning train in anticipation of the trouble. Others crossed the El Paso later in the day.

A curious scene of the late day was

Heiress to Millions Drugged and Forced To Sign Away Rights

Charges Made by Attorney for Miss Gertrude Claypoole—Miss Claypoole Held in Newark Hotel. Probe Ordered.

New York, June 21.—Charges that Miss Gertrude Claypoole, niece and heir to one-fifth of the $10,000,000 estate left by John W. Bookwalter, of Columbus, Ohio, had been drugged, held as a prisoner in a Newark hotel and forced to sign away certain of her rights in the estate, were laid before District Attorney Edward Swann today. The complaint was made by Judge J. M. Sheets, of Columbus, Miss Claypoole's attorney, as an outgrowth of a contest over the estate.

According to the charges, Miss Claypoole, who is 42 years old, was taken from her hotel here to the office of an attorney by a woman who administered drugs to her, and at the attorney's office was induced to sign a revocation of a power of attorney she had given to a lawyer and also a revocation of a will.

Miss Claypoole was taken, she asserts, to a hotel in Newark, where she was held a virtual prisoner for two days. Her friends traced her there, they say, and telephoned the woman who accompanied her that unless Miss Claypoole was restored to them within twenty-four hours they would notify the police. The woman, according to the story, was Miss Claypoole in New York in a cab driver, who was to be paid by a taxi driver. Miss Claypoole was in the taxi cab, she said, and was taken to the hotel where she was held.

Newark, N. J., June 21.—An emergency session of the grand jury was called late today by Judge Martin to consider the story told by Miss Gertrude Claypoole, niece and heir to one-fifth of the $10,000,000 estate of John W. Bookwalter, of Columbus, Ohio, who was reported to have been drugged and forced to sign away rights in the estate.

been greatly strengthened with national guard troops and several companies organized to take possession of strategic points.

Officials continue to express entire confidence in the ability of General Pershing to maintain his position in any emergency. The war department has never revealed the strength of the column in Mexico, but it is believed to be between 10,000 and 12,000 men. The expedition also includes a considerable number of Mexican troops, including a full complement of machine gun companies and troops. It has ample supplies of ammunition and has sufficient time to dig itself in at every point where the entrenchment was thought necessary.

FUNSTON SENDS BELL'S REPORT.

General Funston transmitted to the war department the following report from General Bell at El Paso:

"Mexican Consul Garcia telephoned me at 6 p. m., as follows: 'There was a clash this morning at Carrizal, near Villa Ahumada, between Carranza and American troops, in which General Gomez and other Mexican leaders were killed, the number unknown. Number of Americans killed or wounded unknown.'

"General Gomez sent a captain with an order to the American commander to back, but the American commander said he was going to Villa Ahumada and opened fire on the Mexican captain, wounding him and killing a private who was with him. Americans attacked the Mexican troops, but were thrown back and several men were prisoners. Prisoners were sent to Chihuahua."

"Garcia says this was telephoned at request of General Gonzales. 'An American who was on the train today passing Villa Ahumada at 2:30 o'clock said he saw several dead Mexicans on the train, and that he saw a dead Mexican general. There were also several Mexicans wounded. He gathered from talk there that the fight was with American cavalry 9 miles west and that the Americans were bogged into a trap by the use of a Mexican flag of truce and they were then fired upon by machine guns and killed. He said that Carranza troops engaged were the Tenth Cavalry.'

NO REPORT MADE BY GEN. PERSHING

Gen. Funston Gets Only the Version of the Battle That Reached El Paso. Tenth Cavalry in the Fight

San Antonio, Texas, June 21.—American soldiers of General Pershing's command and a force of Carranza's troops commanded by General Felix Gomez, fought today at Carrizal, 9 miles southwest of Ahumada, the Mexican field base, and 70 miles east of General Pershing's line of communication. General Pershing had been unable to get to General Funston late tonight any report of the engagement, but there appeared no reason to doubt the report from Mexican sources that a serious engagement had taken place, and there was little doubt that the Americans, a detachment of the Tenth Cavalry, a negro organization, suffered heavily.

General Funston said tonight no orders changing the situation would be issued to General Pershing or to General Bell until he had received the official report from General Pershing.

The Mexican Story.

According to the report General Gonzales said he had received, the American detachment came into contact with the Mexican force through messengers sent forward for parley by General Gomez. General Gomez, according to the Mexican version, sent forward a commissioned officer and an enlisted man under a white flag to parley with the American commander, the object being to task him to retire.

The Americans, the Mexicans claimed, fired upon the messengers without warning. Almost immediately after the American attack the Mexicans replied with a machine gun fire, wounding and killing many of the Americans. Apparently they ensued a brief period in which neither side fired, but soon the Americans went into action with a brisk fire that was replied to by General Gomez's force.

A slightly different version was brought to El Paso by an American, who passed through Ahumada and there heard Mexicans boasting that they had decoyed the Americans into an action by the use of a flag of truce. From the American, who passed through Ahumada at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, General Bell learned that the Mexicans believed the American force to have been a detachment of the Tenth Cavalry.

Both the American's version of the reports he heard at Ahumada and the report made by General Gonzales agreed that the Mexican force was commanded by General Francisco Gomez, and that he was killed during the action.

Part of Tenth Cavalry.

El Paso, Texas, June 21.—Consul Garcia announced over the telephone from Juarez late tonight that he had received official confirmation of the fact that the American command engaged was part of the Tenth Cavalry, a negro regiment. He said no details, however, as to the number of Americans or Mexicans engaged, he said.

GREECE MAKES APPEAL TO THE UNITED STATES

Washington, June 21.—An identical note protesting vigorously against interference by the entente allies with the maritime trade of Greece has been presented by the Greek minister to the state department and the diplomatic representatives here of the Latin-American governments. It asserts that "traditional principles" have been violated, and that Greece has been unable to obtain any official explanation in response to inquiries.

Since June 8, the note asserts, the Greek coast has been subjected to a limited blockade, ships being held up and searched and taken to naval bases established by the allied forces. Various vessels flying the Greek flag, it is stated, have been seized at Elzertia, Algiers, and there converted into transports by the allies.

As a result, it is declared, Greece's food supplies have been cut off and her maritime commerce, "the essential of her national economy," stopped.

Strike Called Off.

Chicago, June 21.—The express drivers' strike which has been on for several weeks was called off today.

LARGE MULE ORDER GOES TO GEORGIA

Government Agents to Buy Thousands of Mules From Georgia Dealers—Deal to Bring Much Money Here.

Thousands of mules for the use of the national guard will be purchased in Atlanta and other Georgia towns. It was reported in military circles Wednesday.

The purchase of the Georgia mules will result in hundreds of thousands of dollars being expended in the state of Georgia, and the principal part of this sum in Atlanta, because of the fact that this city is one of the largest mule markets in the world.

Agents representing the government have been in negotiation with representatives of Atlanta stock dealers for several days.

The exact number of animals to be purchased by the federal government for this purpose was not made known Wednesday, nor were the names of the dealers disclosed, but it is understood that the sale to the government will run far into the thousands.

Necessity for hurried shipments to care for the demand was one of the primary reasons for deciding on Georgia mules. It is estimated that carload lots can be shipped from Atlanta and other Georgia points with a greater expediency than from other mule markets.

The government specifications require the best and largest animals obtainable because of the extremely hard work to which they will be subjected.

Attempted purchase of mules at other points has resulted in the restraining of sales to foreign agents for use in Europe, for fear that the home demand will be in excess of the number obtainable on the market. At Chicago Wednesday, government officers held up negotiations between representatives of foreign countries and American dealers in their intended purchases because of the fear of a mule famine.

BIG MUNITIONS PLANT URGED FOR GOVERNMENT

Washington, June 21.—A bill for a $10,000,000 government war munitions factory was introduced today by Representative Keating, of Colorado, who said it had been drawn after conference with several house leaders and that the rules committee within a day or so would agree to bring in a rule to incorporate it in the pending sundry civil appropriation bill.

The measure would leave selection of a site to the president, but would stipulate that it be chosen with a view to safety from attack by any foreign power. The location would be under direction of army and navy officials.

a procession of civilians carrying arms. In age they ranged from small boys, not as tall as their guns, up to old men. Most of them were in the ragged dress of the poor, but some belonged to the better class.

War-like activity was first noted at the railway yard, where a string of freight cars lay coupled to several day coaches that bore the name of the army corps of the north. A number of men were employed there in storing sacks of beans and flour, forage and other army supplies. Late in the afternoon a rather large body of Mexican cavalry passed through the town toward the hills. Many wagons filled with women and children were bound also in that direction.

AMERICANS NOT MOLESTED.

No instance of any attempt to molest any Americans was reported during the daytime. After dark no American is believed to have remained in Juarez.

"This shows how dangerous it is to bring American and Mexican troops in contact," said Mexican Consul Garcia tonight. "But it need not lead to war. It may be treated as a regrettable incident. I am still optimistic."

Consul Garcia said he would spend the night in Juarez, explaining that he might do more good there than on the American side.

"You can deny," he added, "that I am going to close the consulate in El Paso, for I have received no such orders."

Although the street car service from El Paso to Juarez has been frequently stopped at night when trouble looked imminent as two nights ago, the traffic continued as usual this evening.

At the international bridges there was no sign of excitement.

Consul Garcia said tonight that a message from Mexico City had been received which stated that the rebels in the states of Zacatecas and Coahuila had given up their fight and joined the Carranza government.

MILLIONS OF REVENUE SOUGHT BY DEMOCRATS

Washington, June 21.—House ways and means committee will determine tomorrow the amount to be raised by the new revenue bill to be laid before the house within a week. In its tentative form the bill carries three provisions: Increase of the surtax in the income tax law without lowering the present income tax exemptions. Tax from 1 to 3 per cent or upward on transfers of estates exceeding $50,000 in value, in terms that differentiate this form of tax from an inheritance tax. Tax of not exceeding 2 per cent on the net receipts of munitions plants.

The Mexican campaign and the possibility of intervention will be taken into account in considering the bill. It is expected that the bulk of emergency expenses would be met by issuance of treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Carranza Considers United States Note; No Hint of Decision

Diplomatic Representatives of the Entente Allies Are Trying to Prevent "First Chief" From Going to War With United States.

GERMANS ARE CHARGED WITH STIRRING FEELING AGAINST UNITED STATES

It is Alleged German Agencies Have Been Active Not Only in Mexico, But in South and Central America. Washington Officials Have Little Hope Carranza Can Be Induced to Listen to Reason.

Washington, June 21.—While General Carranza is studying the American note rejecting his demand for withdrawal of Pershing's expedition, European diplomats are exerting pressure on the first chief to prevent him from going to war with the United States, it was learned here today. Some intimation as to what Carranza's next step will be was expected hourly tonight at the state department.

Special Agent Rodgers reported today that the Mexican cabinet had under consideration the American note, but was unable to forecast what action would be taken. His message threw little light on what was going on in the Mexican capital.

From other sources, however, came the news that the entente allies are particularly anxious that nothing should occur at this time to shut off the oil supplies for the French and British navies from the Tampico fields and are bringing pressure to bear to prevent a break.

GERMAN INTRIGUE ALLEGED IN MEXICO.

Allied diplomatic representatives in Mexico believe, too, that German influences have been working on Carranza in an effort to create a situation that might embarrass the enemies of the central powers.

They have asserted that German agencies have been active in stirring feeling against the United States not only in Mexico, but throughout South and Central America to prevent this country from securing trade formerly controlled by German merchants.

It is understood that the diplomats have pointed out to General Carranza that the American note only declines to consider immediately any suggestion that its troops be withdrawn from Mexico, and that it quotes a portion of the agreement between General Scott and General Obregon, providing among other things for the gradual withdrawal of the forces.

Another suggestion is that the dispute over border conditions could be referred to an international commission under the treaty of 1848 between the two countries. Diplomatic officials are known to believe that President Wilson would consider such a suggestion if he met with interference in the meantime in his efforts to guard the American border from attacks.

The state department had no official reports on the peace-making efforts in Mexico City, although it has been informed indirectly of what is believed the assurance of Carranza's withdrawal of troops from the border.

While these matters occupied the attention of the state department, President Wilson stood on the sidewalk in front of the white house today to review 2,000 members of the Disarmament League, who were marching on their way to the mobilization camp at Fort Myer, Va. Among them were men of all walks of life, including students, teachers, and young men.

Mr. Wilson, accompanied by Secretary Baker, was greeted with cheers from the crowds gathered along the avenue. A moment later the troops came in sight, marching in columns of fours. The president's eyes followed the parade, and he was seen to smile.

At the war department telegrams came today from many states reporting the progress of the mobilization. Scores of regiments are under canvas tonight, and yet no marching orders for the border have been received, but they will go before the week is out.

"It is quite certain," Secretary Baker said, "that some of the regiments will go to the border shortly, but whether that means in a day or two more, I cannot say."

Mr. Baker would not discuss General Funston's report that he expects the Mexican government to accept the offer to withdraw troops from the border, but he said that the first organization to complete muster into the service, and which are well placed geographically, will be sent forward promptly.

The general plan under which the state department is working is known as the twelve-division plan prepared by the war department in 1912. A later scheme of organization has superseded this for use in a great war, but the old plans meet the present situation best. Under it the units called out represent twelve full army divisions when properly furnished. At present the force would total 100,000 men; at full war strength approximately 250,000. The organization President Wilson has announced is to be expanded to as near that maximum as possible by recruiting in the states from which they come.

TO REORGANIZE REGULAR ARMY.

The scheme of reorganization for the regular army under the new army bill also was announced today. It provides for the addition of seven regiments of infantry, two of cavalry, three of field and heavy artillery and two of engineers. The act takes effect July 1, and by the plan announced the new organization composing the first annual increment of increase will be created on that date, giving General Funston twelve new regiments.

Three of the new infantry regiments will be formed in the foreign service. The first of these will be the Twenty-third, composed of the first battalion of the Fifteenth infantry, expanded to a full regiment and selected alternate non-commissioned officers and men from the Eighth and Thirtieth infantry, now in the islands. The new regiment will be given a skeleton organization complete in every detail, but which must be filled up with second lieutenants and recruits to the necessary strength.

The same way the Thirty-second infantry will be built up out of drafts from the First and Second regiments in Hawaii; the Thirty-third from the Fifth and Tenth in the canal zone; the Thirty-fourth at El Paso from the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth.

The Thirty-fifth at Douglas, Ariz., from the Eleventh, Eighteenth and Twenty-second; the Thirty-sixth at Brownsville from the Fourth, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth.

The Thirty-seventh at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., from the Ninth and Thirtieth. The Sixteenth and Seventeenth cavalry also will be formed on the border out of men from the First, Third, Sixth, Eighth and Fourteenth regiments; the Seventh field artillery from the Fifth, Sixth and Sixth regiments. The Ninth heavy artillery, equipped with field howitzers, will be organized in Hawaii. By expanding each of the three engineer battalions into a regiment the additional units of these troops will be produced.

MANY OFFICERS TO BE PROMOTED.

Officers say the reorganization can take place on the border without impairing the efficiency of the force. All officers necessary for the new regiments will be drawn from the existing organizations and promotions all along the line will follow. The president will be leaving the army virtually without second lieutenants and it is said here that the additional officers provided for under the bill will be fed into the service.

There will be many promotions also among enlisted men. New non-commissioned officers will have to be selected in both the old and new regiments as it is planned to distribute the seasoned men as first equals. They will be found in the ranks of the privates and the sergeants filled will be only in the grade of private.

GEORGIA STRIVING TO BREAK RECORD

of our state organization at or very near full war strength companies."

Governor Harris, discussing the fact that Georgia was ready to report ready in ten hours after the adjutant general's order to assemble at the home stations, said he was proud to report that Georgia was ready to report ready in ten hours after the adjutant general's order to assemble at the home stations.

"I have once more had reason to feel real proud of the Georgia boys," he said. "It was a great record, but not more than I had expected of our boys. I have never before felt that Georgia boys were ever called on by this country they would be there right away. I have never before felt that Georgia boys would be there right away. I have never before felt that Georgia boys would be there right away."

More recruits wanted. "I will order the Fifth to Macon just as soon as I am informed that it is recruited to its minimum strength," added General Nash. "And I wish here to make a single appeal for recruits. The officers of the troop and the enlisted men have done and are still doing their share of the work."

"But they can't go out and drag in men for recruitment. It is up to the people of this commonwealth to supply all other parts of the state, to encourage enlistments. If Georgia was not among the very first to report readiness for departure from mobilization camp to the border, the adjutant general's department would feel disappointed."

One trouble that was encountered Wednesday was the number of would-be leaders in many of the states, especially communities adjacent to Atlanta, who have announced their intention of organizing home companies to go to the border.

Out-of-town recruitment squads sent out by the Fifth regiment found in many instances, scores of prospective recruits who wanted to go on the Mexican expedition, but who were waiting for the organization of a home company.

A group of recruiting agents sent out by the Fifth into a neighboring town Wednesday found that a popular young lawyer had come even so far as to distribute handbills advising the aspirants to military service to wait for the Fifth regiment to come to the unit of militiamen. The recruiting squad was unable to induce a single enlistment.

Militia officials stated that this should be discouraged, so that the established organizations may be hurried to the mobilization point.

Business Houses Help. Business establishments and public-spirited citizens worked Wednesday to encourage recruiting. Morris & Co., the meat packing concern, with branches all over America, wired the Atlanta division Wednesday night to men in their employ who cared to enlist upon their return from service. Three men from the Morris shop promptly enlisted.

Notice was given employees of the B. F. Goodrich Tire company, which has headquarters in Akron, Ohio, that all militiamen will have their positions reserved, and a salary provision will be made for them.

The Fifth regiment is now prepared to move within six hours—or less—after the order to entrain. The contract was let with the Central Georgia railroad Wednesday by the quartermaster's department to transport the troops and their equipment to the concentration camp at a cost of approximately $2,000.

The train equipment will comprise three passenger sections and one freight section. Troopers were busy Wednesday afternoon loading baggage and other equipment upon the flats at the railroad yards.

Captain C. P. Cronheim, quartermaster of the Fifth, reports the need of two horsehoes, one blacksmith, one saddler, one wagon man and two assistant wagon men. These recruits will draw pay in proportion to the regular non-commissioned officers. Captain Cronheim has prepared to devote his entire time and efforts to the affairs of his regiment. Wednesday he forwarded to James D. Price, state commissioner of agriculture, his resignation from the office of inspector for the Atlanta district, which will take effect July 1.

Cheers from the girls and men and women who lined the sidewalks downtown greeted the detachment of Governor's Horse Guards when they moved up Peachtree and Whitehall streets late Wednesday afternoon on a practice drill. The squad was under the command of Captain Rudisill.

Wednesday's recruitment "exceeded fifty." It is expected to receive added stimulus today.

The date for entrainment is yet indefinite, but is hardly expected to be later than Friday.

The squads sent for out-of-town recruitment Wednesday were under the command of Lieutenant Moran, to Marietta; Captain Wynne, to Stone Mountain; Private Legare Davis, to Newnan. Company "I" of the Fifth was the first in the state to assemble enough recruits to measure up to the limit of the peace-time requirements of the United States army.

The company is headed by Captain E. J. Spratling.

By the order of Colonel Orville Hall, Lieutenant Colonel Hendrix inspected the company in full equipment Wednesday and passed them up as being satisfactory.

Company F Ready. Company F was the first unit of the Fifth regiment to report ready Wednesday, when Captain E. J. Spratling commanded an inspection. It was reported to the adjutant general that F was ready for the border. The company showed sixty-six men in line with full equipment, and two in civilian's clothes waiting to be equipped.

The inspection was made by Lieutenant Colonel Hendrix, to whom Captain Spratling made the statement last night. He owes a lot to the success of his organization in getting into such early readiness. Captain Spratling also praised the others of his staff: Second Lieutenant F. A. Kiser, First Lieutenant Gerald O'Keefe, First Sergeant J. H. Bibb and Quartermaster Sergeant A. H. Thomas.

Aaron Haas Son & Howell, general agents for the Maryland Casualty company, one of the largest casualty and surety companies in business, notified their employees Wednesday that all who enlisted would have their salaries continued for a reasonable length of time, and positions held open until return from service in the militia.

This act will affect the Maryland company heavily, because of the fact that scores of its hundreds of employees are members of militia organizations throughout the country, especially in Baltimore.

MACON COMPANY TO MOVE INTO CAMP THIS MORNING.

Macon, Ga., June 21.—Colonel J. A. Thomas notified Adjutant General J. H. Nash tonight that the Macon battalion of the Second regiment was ready to move into the mobilization camp at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The machine gun company received orders at 9 o'clock tonight to move to the mobilization camp at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Wayne Co. Light Troop IS BEING REORGANIZED.

Jesup, Ga., June 21.—(Special).—A reorganization of the Wayne light troop has been under full headway today. This troop of cavalry was in the National Guard of Georgia for years as a member of the first regiment Georgia cavalry as Troop "I." Captain R. M. Milikin, former commander of the troop, and H. W. Surrency, who was first lieutenant, are at the head of the reorganization. The troop has been out of service for about six years. Telegrams were sent to Adjutant General Nash today that they were ready to go.

D COMPANY, COLUMBUS GUARDS, READY FOR CAMP AT MACON.

Columbus, Ga., June 21.—(Special).—Recruiting sixty-nine men in approximately twelve hours, D company, Columbus Guards, of the Second Georgia regiment, is, numerically and from a war footing standpoint, ready for mobilization at Macon, Ga., a company of 100 men of the line and three commissioned officers having been secured. In event that a war footing commensurate with the new army bill will be effective July 1, requiring 142 men of the line, is desired by the officers of the Georgia national guard, D company officers anticipate no difficulty in securing the requisite number.

Twenty-four recruits were accepted Tuesday and in the evening of the same day at the local armory, the new recruits were examined, 34 presenting themselves to the company physicians. Of this number, 41 were accepted and camp at once. It is expected that they will move tomorrow morning, and will have several applications filed.

The camp was practically ready for receiving the Georgia guardsmen today, but a force of men was kept at work all night putting on the finishing touches. Major Daniel has established his headquarters here, and the recruits are putting up a bold front and declaring themselves to be 15 years; veterans of the Spanish-American war are seeking enlistment, and one was rejected on account of his hearing, but so anxious is he to go to Mexico that he proposes to take his case higher up.

A big buck negro sought enlistment today, and was referred to the regular United States army recruiting station, but there, too, he was doubtless rejected, as that department is not accepting them now unless they have had previous service. Only two men have asked for their discharge from the company, one taking advantage of the section excluding married men, the other of the ruling that if single, with dependents on his income, he may be excused.

SINGER'S FUNERAL ON NEXT SATURDAY

The funeral of Joseph L. Singer, prominent Atlanta man, who died in Denver, Colo., Tuesday morning, will be held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the church of Harry C. Poole's undertaking establishment. The body will reach Atlanta Friday night at 10 o'clock over the Southern railroad. Mr. Singer was one of the best known business men in Atlanta. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Rev. F. L. Fleming Dies.

Rev. F. L. Fleming, presiding elder of the Newnan district of the African Methodist Episcopal church, who has been ill for more than a year, died at his residence on Gartrell street Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. He leaves a wife and several children. He was one of the leading ministers of the negro race, and did much work for the unfortunate people of his race. He was a trustee and strong supporter of the Holmes institute. Funeral will take place in Davisboro, Ga.

Fresh, New Undermuslins In the June White-and-Pink Sale

A steady inflow of dainty undermuslins at little prices keeps the June White-and-Pink Sale a constant source of interest and of profitable shopping.

Even now as the ebb of the month approaches we are receiving new things that will claim the favor of women not only because they are lovely but also because they are priced so low.

We speak of—

New White and Pink Gowns at $1.50

New styles, of white nainsook, of pink batiste; yokes entirely of Valenciennes and embroidery insertions, yokes of shadow embroidered organdie with ribbons forming an Empire effect—all of these have short sleeves; others have high and V necks with long sleeves—tucked and sheer embroidery yokes.

New Teddy Bears at $1, $1.25 and $1.50

Of white nainsook and pink batiste—some few of these show the same ideas of trimmings as the gowns above—making match sets possible—Empire and plain styles. Lace edges are so used at the side as to appear to form a short skirt.

New, Inexpensive Petticoats 50c to $2

50c, 75c, 89c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00. A great host of these—muslins, cambrics, nainsooks. Also included in the June White-and-Pink Sale are some of the loveliest, laciest petticoats we have ever shown—for white frocks and dancing dresses. They have 8 to 12-inch flare flounces—$5.95 to $15.00.

THE INSTRUMENT OF QUALITY

SONORA CLEAR AS A BELL

"The Proof of the Pudding—"

"The proof of the pudding"—applied to Talking Machines is to hear one.

That's the way we would have you test the Sonora—the machine that is winning countless friends throughout America.

Indeed, its tones are as clear as a bell—what is more, one can modulate it from pianissimo to fortissimo, just as a pianist would use the pedals.

But—"the proof of the pudding." Drop into our Talking Machine section for a few minutes' rest to the tune of a favorite record—and hear with your own ears what the Sonora will do. In the meantime we will explain the interior workings that produce such tones, that will continue to produce such tones.

No Place for Pretty Nurses In Field Hospital Service

NURSE WOULD GO TO FRONT.

In the center is Miss Martha Foss, an Atlanta nurse, applying for enlistment in the field hospital corps of the Fifth regiment. Facing her is Captain C. F. Holton, commander of the corps. The others are recent recruits.

The patriotism and adventurous spirit of some thirty Atlanta nurses has led them to bitter disappointment.

Like the girls in the chorus of that ancient and estimable musical comedy "Sergeant Kitty," they believe that war is a "glorious occupation, a kindly recreation," but, alas, Captain C. F. Holton, commanding the field hospital corps of the Fifth regiment, has been compelled to tell all thirty of them that there is "nothing doing."

Miss Martha Foss, one of Atlanta's pretty nurses, all dressed up in white and with eyes full of hope, walked up to the recruiting station of the hospital corps on the ground floor of the Atlanta National Bank building Wednesday and asked to be enlisted as a nurse in the corps.

Captain Holton had been going through the same experience for three days.

"I am very sorry," he said, with a wan smile, "but it is impossible for the field hospital corps to enlist women, as much as we would like to have them along and as valuable as we know their services would be."

"No women are allowed to serve in the field corps for the reason that the field corps does its work practically on the firing line. It is an emergency organization that is subjected to almost as much danger as the men who are actually on the firing line, and the government has forbidden us to subject women to these hazards."

"We are a sort of fly-by-night, will-o'-the-wisp good Samaritan who goes anywhere when called upon and asks no questions."

"Women are used in the army hospital service only in base hospitals. For instance, if we should go into Mexico the field hospital corps would go right along with the troops, but no woman would be with us. You might, however, be able to get a place in a base hospital, in which event you would likely be stationed in San Antonio or El Paso, but I regret that we can enlist no women in the field corps."

Miss Foss was only one of about thirty nurses who have applied for admittance into the service of the field hospital corps.

The field hospital corps is already recruited above minimum peace strength, and the prospects are that unless orders come for its immediate movement it will leave Atlanta with a full war strength.

It is regarded as likely that the field hospital corps of the Fifth Georgia regiment will be one of the first militia organizations to be ordered to the border. Orders for the movement of the Atlanta corps are expected hourly.

King Opposes Effort To Cause Reduction In Police Department

Strongly opposing the proposed reduction of Atlanta's present police force, Andy R. King, chairman of the board of police commissioners, issued a statement yesterday declaring that the present force is in reality inadequate to properly patrol the city streets.

The proposed ordinance provides that the force shall be reduced by twenty men, following the resignation or discharge of members of the present force. No officer now serving is to be dismissed, since these were elected under the civil service regulations.

According to Mr. King, the present force can hardly care for the many demands made upon it due to the fact that the recent traffic law requires more men and some wards are exceedingly large.

Further, says Mr. King, the men who have served as supernumeraries for two years and more would lose all hope of a permanent place. He declares that it will be a hard matter to retain experienced men to fill the depleted ranks as the occasion arises.

DOES NOT BLAME BOY FOR THIS ACCIDENT

As she stepped from the sidewalk on Whitehall street near the Viaduct, noon Wednesday, Mrs. A. J. Duncan, 26 Dalton street, was struck by a bicycle ridden by a fifteen-year-old messenger boy in the employ of the Postal Telegraph company. Mrs. Duncan was knocked down, but only slightly bruised.

Upon statements of witnesses that the accident was not the boy's fault, no arrest was made by investigating officers.

ATTACK WAS FEARED ON LAWLER WITNESS

Brooks Hurried to Birmingham After Appearing Before the Huntsville Grand Jury.

Huntsville, Ala., June 21.—A crowd that blocked the courthouse square gathered here this afternoon while Percy Brooks was before the grand jury investigating the recent murder of Probate Judge W. T. Lawler, and county officers fearing possible harm to Brooks hastened back to Birmingham with him at the conclusion of his testimony late today. Brooks was arrested and taken to Birmingham shortly after Judge Lawler's body was found. He was brought back here today to testify and scarcely any notice was taken of him when he was led through the streets to courthouse.

Great Crowd Gathered. At lunch people began to gather at the hotel where Brooks was taken and officers forced their way through the crowd with the man, taking him back to the grand jury room. When Brooks was ready to be taken back, he was brought to the south entrance to the courthouse where a crowd gathered. Officers then slipped him quickly around to the west entrance, put him in an automobile and set out for Birmingham with all speed. It was said Brooks, who owns the ferry near where Judge Lawler's body was found, was an important witness in the state's case.

Investigation into the Lawler murder was not concluded today, although more than thirty witnesses have been heard. The investigation begun yesterday when Shelby S. Pleasant, an attorney, was found shot to death in his office here, apparently ended today with the announcement by Acting Solicitor Tate that he accepted the suicide theory. It was said Mr. Pleasant had left a note declaring he killed himself because he had been suspected of complicity in the Lawler murder. Mr. Tate said, however, no such suspicion had been held by officers. He said he thought Pleasant must have become mentally deranged.

Reward Offered for Overton. Formal proclamation of the state's offer of $100 reward for the arrest of D. D. Overton, unsuccessful opponent of Judge Lawler in a recent primary, was made today. After it was issued Sheriff Robert Phillips, who was known as a warm personal friend of Overton, declared neither he nor any of his deputies would accept the reward if Overton should be found and arrested by them. Sheriff Phillips recently issued a statement replying to criticism directed at his office because Overton had not already been arrested, and saying he was making every effort to find him. Charles M. Nails, said to have been closely allied with Overton in his race against the late Judge Lawler, was arrested and taken to Birmingham yesterday after a search of several days.

Judge Robert C. Brickell, of the eighth circuit court, today wrote Nails asking for his resignation as clerk of the eighth circuit. Nails is in jail at Birmingham, having been arrested in connection with Judge Lawler's death. Judge Brickell appointed Nails clerk to succeed Overton, who resigned to make the race against Lawler.

FORMER GUARD OFFICERS SENTENCED TO PRISON

Austin, Texas, June 21.—Emmet E. Walker, former assistant quartermaster general of the Texas national guard, and George J. Head, formerly a captain of militia, were found guilty in federal court here today of embezzlement of government property and were sentenced to three years and a day in the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

Walker and Head were charged with having illegally disposed of discarded militia equipment to the Carranza government.

Freeman-Toy Wedding At Home of Bride

The marriage of Miss Alice May Freeman and Mr. Bokozor Toy took place last evening at half past six o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lella Lowry Freeman, on West Peachtree street. Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by the family connection. Mrs. Henry Clay Burr, the bride's sister, was her only attendant, and the groom's brother, Mr. Rogers Toy, was best man. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Colonel Robert J. Lowry.

Following the ceremony there was an informal reception, and an elegant supper was served, the young couple leaving on a night train for a visit east.

Bride's Gown.
The bride's gown was an exquisite creation in lace chiffon and satin, the skirt in two flounces of the lace, built over the chiffon and satin. The corsage of satin was embroidered in a design of pearls, and garlands of orange blossoms gave a bridal touch to the costume. The wedding veil of tulle with chaplet of orange blossoms was that worn by the bride's mother on the occasion of the latter's wedding. She carried orchids and valley lilies. The matron of honor wore peach blossom tulle with over draperies of tulle finished with garlands of pink roses. She carried pink and lavender sweetpeas and snapdragons. The bride's mother wore black tulle over white satin. Her aunts, Mrs. Mary Clark,

Mrs. Thomas D. Meador, Mrs. Walter Taylor, and Mr. Toy's sister, Mrs. Lamar, were in the receiving party. Mrs. Clark wore black lace over black chiffon. Mrs. Meador wore a white crepe gown embroidered in lavender flowers. Mrs. Taylor wore white embroidered tulle trimmed in lace. Mrs. Lamar's gown was of black thread lace over white chiffon; a train of black tulle draped from the shoulders.

The Decorations.
The decorations throughout the house reflected the shades of the rose and lavender, sweetpeas and snapdragons, against a background of green. In the main hallway, where the ceremony was performed, there was a high bank of palms and potted ferns. Pedestals of white and gold were set on each side of an improvised altar, where the bride and groom knelt for the nuptial blessing. The mantels were banked with fern and vases of the season's flowers which were effectively used on all sides. There was a smile on the chandelier and in the dining room the table was decorated with pink and white. The central table from which the sweets following the wedding were served, was decorated with the season's flowers filled with the flowers. The silver candlesticks had their shades of crystal, and the cakes and honeys were embossed in sweetpeas; all the accessory decorations in the pink and white colors. The bride is the elder of the two daughters of Mrs. Lella Lowry Freeman and the late James Freeman. She is possessed of a blonde loveliness and of a daintiness and grace which distinguish her in any gathering in which she appears. She is the granddaughter of the late William Lowry, Atlanta's pioneer banker, and her relatives are among Atlanta's most prominent people. The groom is the younger son of the late Rogers Toy, of Atlanta, a highly esteemed citizen, and he is one of Atlanta's successful young citizens. His sister is Mrs. William Bailey Lamar, who, with Judge Lamar, came from Washington to attend the wedding.

Mrs. Toy's going-away gown was a smart tailor suit in blue with hat and wrap to match. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Toy will be at home with the bride's mother, Mrs. Lella Lowry Freeman, West Peachtree street.

Carried Georgia Banner.
Mrs. Apollonia R. Woodall, president of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association, has returned from Chicago and St. Louis, where she attended the republican and the democratic conventions.

Mrs. Woodall carried the Georgia banner in the great suffrage parade held in Chicago on June 7 and represented Georgia in the marchers parade held by suffragists in St. Louis on June 14.

W. C. T. U.
Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the Atlanta Women's Christian Temperance union, requests the members to be present at the meeting to be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room of Trinity church. Visitors are always cordially welcomed to all services.

Luncheon Friday.
Mrs. Willis Timmons will entertain at luncheon Friday for her guest, Mrs. Granville Fleece, of Memphis. Mrs. Fleece was Miss Pauline Bridge, of Atlanta, daughter of the late James Bridge, who was just returned from Boston, where she was sponsor at the christening ceremonies of the United States navy supply ship, "Bridge," which is a grand niece of Horatio Bridge, for whom the ship is named.

Wedding Postponed.
The marriage of Miss Ruth Elizabeth Hudson and Mr. David K. Clark, which was to have taken place Thursday, June 22, has been indefinitely postponed.

Evans-Clower.
The marriage of Miss Anne M. Evans, of Danville, Ky., and Mr. Carl C. Clower, of Atlanta, Ga., was solemnized Monday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mr. J. H. Hutchings, 448 Main street, Danville, Ky.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. P. W. Eberhardt, pastor of the First Baptist church, and was witnessed by only the immediate family and a number of close friends.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Clower will make their home in Atlanta.

Harkins-Bragg.
Mrs. M. C. Harkins announces the marriage of her daughter, Hattie, to Mr. Oscar E. Bragg, at noon, Sunday, June 18, Rev. Dr. Wallace Rogers officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Bragg are at home to their friends at 85 Lawton street, West End.

Dinner-Dance at Club.
At the dinner-dance at the Capital City club Tuesday evening, June 20, were Mr. and Mrs. Julian Prade, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Roser, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butters, Mr. A. G. Giles, Mr. George W. Miss Grant Entertains At Supper-Dance
The charm of the supper-dance, than which there is no more delightful form of summer-time hospitality, found happy expression last night in Miss Margaret Grant's entertainment of eighty guests at her home on Pace's Ferry road, the company including young people and a few of the young married set.

The evening's hospitality was informal in its spirit, and was as delightful, and the beauty of house and grounds made ideal setting for what proved one of the prettiest and most enjoyable entertainments of the summer.

The brilliance of color and the fragrance of June flowers from the home gardens filled the house, and an artistic arrangement of the flowers was the decoration for the supper tables, each seating a small party. A delicious repast was served at 8 o'clock, and dancing followed.

Miss Grant was a lovely hostess in white, her dancing gown a dainty model in lace. Mrs. John W. Grant, receiving with her daughter, wore a becoming tulle gown in lavender.

Vacant Lot Garden Contest This Afternoon at Capitol
The contest exercises for prizes to be awarded the boys and girls who have been successful gardeners in the vacant lots of the city, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the general public, including all the school children of Atlanta, are invited to be present and take part in the exercises. The Boy Scouts of Atlanta are invited to be present, and the occasion will be one of general civic interest among the young people of the city.

The prizes, the first of which is $20 in gold, will be awarded, and there will be many smaller prizes.

The civic gardening among the school children of Atlanta has been initiated by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Spencer Atkinson appointing Mrs. Alfred Wilson chairman of the committee on vacant lot gardens.

Mrs. Wilson had her assisting chairman in every ward in the city, and the children have showed the greatest interest. The gardening had the hearty endorsement of the public school authorities appreciating the value of the horticulture, not only because of the beautiful principle involved, but the value of gardening as a mode of physical development for children, keeping them occupied out of doors out of school hours.

The exercises will begin promptly at 3 o'clock at the Capitol. Today in the window of Scherer's restaurant, on Whitehall street, is an exhibit of the vegetables which have been raised in the vacant lot gardens.

For further information on the subject address Mrs. Alfred Wilson, chairman, or Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

For Visitors.
Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McHan will entertain this evening at the roof garden of the Capital City club for their guests, Miss Katherine Whitfield and Miss Hazel Hannah, of Montgomery.

Friday evening they will be given a party at the Forsyth, and Miss Laurence Horine will entertain at the dinner-dance at East Lake Country club Saturday evening.

For Miss Bowden.
Miss Adelaide Callaway was hostess at a bridge party and stocking shower Tuesday afternoon for Miss Mary Frances Bowden, a bride-elect.

Mrs. Keese Dunwoody won the prize, crepe de chine handkerchiefs, for top score, and the guest prize was a corsage bouquet of pink sweetpeas.

The guests were: Miss Bowden, Miss Lois Wilkinson, Mrs. J. Q. Bowden, Mrs. W. L. Condon, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Keese Dunwoody, Miss Edith Boone, Mrs. Joe Teague, Mrs. Even McConnell, Miss Edith Copeland, Mrs. Lester Brewer, Miss Martha Crane, Miss Elizabeth Small, Miss Louise Loomis and Mrs. Henry Saunders.

TEASLEY-MCCURRY.

Hartwell, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss May Lillie Teasley and Mr. William Baird McCurry was solemnized Thursday evening, June 16, at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride on West Howell street. Rev. Fred J. Maaburn, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated. Only relatives and a few friends were present. The ceremony was performed in the room between two tall colonial mirrors an altar was formed. The background was of bamboo outlined in arch shape with white roses. At the base of each of the mirrors was placed a vase of white carnations and white sweetpeas were used on the cabinets and mantel.

White satin ribbon tied to little white pedestals was stretched across the broad hallway and on to the altar, forming an aisle for the bridal party. Just before the ceremony was performed an appropriate musical program was rendered. Miss Nan Osborne, of Spartanburg, sang "Hearts Delight"; Mr. Will Thornton, of Elberton, sang "The Little Gray Home in the West." This was followed by another vocal solo, "Thou Art Mine," all by Thomas Bradsky, sung by Miss Claudia Smathers, of Asheville, N. C. All the wedding music was played by Miss Marguerite Smathers at the piano, violin accompaniment by Mr. Wallace White.

The bride's attendant was maid of honor, Miss Ella Sue Jones, of Anderson, S. C., a cousin of the bride; Miss Edna Jensen, Miss Claudia Smathers, of Asheville, N. C.; Miss Kathleen Watson, of Atlanta, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Madge McCurry, of Elberton, a sister of the groom. The groomsmen were Messrs. Ed Taber, Julie Danley and Will Thornton, who have under-taken and will be the means of bringing more people to Atlanta every month in the year than any other one thing.

It is urged that all members attend Friday night's meeting.

The bride entered with her eldest brother, Mr. James Loyd Teasley, and was met at the altar by the groom, who was attended by his brother, Dr. Add McCurry, of Elberton, as best man.

The bride looked lovely in a dress of white satin combined with tulle and princess lace. The corsage and tunic were embroidered with seed pearls. The veil of tulle was caught with a wreath of orange blossoms. The long court-train was carried by little Grace Benson Teasley, a niece of the bride, who looked fairy-like in a dress of sheer white organdie with wings of tulle.

There were flowers in the bride's bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Misses Margie Linder and Lola Taylor served punch from a punch table banked with pink flowers. The bride's book was kept by Messrs. B. C. Alford and A. M. Teasley.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. McCurry left immediately for an eastern bridal tour, after which they will make their home in Elberton.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Thomas W. Teasley, and the late Thomas W. Teasley. As Miss Teasley, Mrs. McCurry has been an acquisition to her home town, not only in the social circle, but she has been a very active, very indispensable worker in the church circle. Her loss to Hartwell will be great, indeed.

L. D. Hicks, president; Preston Arkwright, first vice president; Ivan E. Allen, second vice president; Albert S. Adams, secretary; Kendall Weisiger, treasurer; William West, sergeant-at-arms; R. C. Darby, Asa G. Candier, Jr., Valdemar Gude, Lee Ashcraft and John S. Carroll were elected directors.

Lee Jordan, retiring president, and Kendall Weisiger, retiring secretary, were given handsome sets of flat silver. Fred J. Paxon presented the gift to Mr. Jordan and Mell R. Wilkinson presented the gift to Mr. Weisiger.

Mr. Mason has lived in Atlanta for many years and has been prominently connected with the commercial and civic progress of the city. There are now two candidates in the race for mayor, Alderman Jesse Armistead, of the seventh ward, and Councilman Claude L. Ashley, of the fourth ward.

GERMANS BATTLING WITH DESPERATION TO STOP RUSSIANS

Kaiser Has Thrown Heavy Reinforcements to Eastern Front in an Effort to Save the Armies of Austria.

VIOLENT ENGAGEMENTS REPORTED IN PROGRESS

At Some Points Berlin Claims Gains, While at Others Petrograd Reports Victories for the Russians. Russians Still Chasing the Beaten Austrians in Bukovina.

London, June 21.—Violent fighting, with the Germans generally the aggressors, is in progress between the Russians and Germans in Volhynia, along the Stokhod and Sty rivers and in the region lying between Lutsk and Vladimir-Volynsk. The Russians, who had crossed the Sty and reached the village of Grusiatyn, west of Kolki, entered the town and captured 400 officers, 400 men and six machine guns. In the fighting the town changed hands several times, but under a concentrated German artillery fire the Russians finally were driven back with the loss of 1,000 men and prisoners, Berlin reports.

Along the Stokhod, near the village of Rajmesto, the Germans delivered a heavy attack which resulted in a later into hand-to-hand fighting in which the Russians, according to Petrograd, forced the Germans to retreat. Near Kolki, another German onslaught was stopped by the Russians. Near Lokatchi, southeast of Vladimir-Volynsk, Vienna reports the capture of 1,300 Russians.

VICIOUS BATTLES IN PROGRESS.

North, west and northwest of Lutsk vicious encounters are ensuing. Across the frontier in Galicia, the stalemate in the region of Bucacz persists. In Bukovina the Russians continue to drive the Austrians west and south. Petrograd announces that the prisoners taken by the Russians in Volhynia and Galicia up to June 15 aggregated 172,484.

The Germans claim success for their arms on the northern part of the Russian front in the Dvinsk-Smogorin and Dubatowka sectors with the infliction of heavy losses on the Russians in the latter region.

TEUTONS SEEK FOR INITIATIVE.

London, June 21.—The official communications issued today by the German, Austrian and Russian war offices all indicate that, as has been anticipated, the Germans are making a determined effort to resume the initiative lost by the Russian General Brusiloff's drive and create a diversion by a strong attack on General Kuropatkin's armies in the north, especially in Volhynia on the Sty and Stokhod rivers in an effort to prevent the Russians receiving reinforcements.

Although up to the present the Germans are making no striking advances, they are clearly holding up their opponents. Most stubborn fighting with fluctuating results is proceeding around Grusiatyn, west of Kolki. Near Grusiatyn the fighting has continued far north, in the Smogorin district and in the region of Riga. Military experts say that it remains to be seen whether the Germans will be able to bring sufficient pressure in these sectors.

AUSTRIAN ARMY CLEFT IN TWAIN.

London, June 21.—Confirmatory reports of the cutting in two of General Planzer's forces in Bukovina are contained in a dispatch to The Star from Petrograd today.

When the Austrians retired from Czernowitz, says the correspondent, part of them, northeast due south along the Rumanian border and others toward the Carpathians, their hope was to have time to hold the Russians on Kutly to Sereth along the Rivers Mikhorda and Sereth.

But despite the delay caused by the prolonged defense of Czernowitz, General Letichewsky threw his reserves upon the heels of the retreating Austrians at such speed that he succeeded in reaching that line simultaneously with them.

The result was that General Planzer's forces were cut in half midway between Kutly and Sereth at Stroginet.

RUSSIANS DRIVE GERMAN TROOPS.

Petrograd, June 21.—(Via London).—The war office announced today that the Russian army captured by the Russians in the offensive in Volhynia and Galicia up to Thursday of last week was 172,484.

The official announcement says that a severe engagement on the Stokhod river between German troops made an attack in massed formation, were repulsed and took to flight.

"Desperate fighting continues in the region north of Grusiatyn, on the Sty. The village of Grusiatyn changed hands several times. Yesterday afternoon we entered the village and captured 400 officers, 400 men and six machine guns, but gusts of German artillery fire compelled us to evacuate the town again."

"With furious persistence the Germans, operating in the region of Vorotynsk, northwest of Kolki, under cover of gusts of artillery fire from both light and heavy guns, made repeated attacks on the morning of June 20 against our young regiments. Our troops, by impetuous attack, put the Germans to flight, taking nine machine guns and a number of prisoners belonging to various regiments."

"At 3 o'clock on the next morning, in the region of the village of Rajmesto, on the Stokhod river north of Vorotynsk, the Germans attacked in mass formation. The engagement became a hand-to-hand struggle in which the Germans were unable to sustain our steady pressure, took flight, leaving in our hands wounded and prisoners not yet counted."

"Desperate fighting is in progress in the region of Kolki and further south."

"On the extreme left wing we are still pursuing the enemy, and have crossed the Sereth river."

"The total number of prisoners taken by General Brusiloff from June 3 to 15 inclusive was 3,350 officers and 169,134 men. We also captured 198 machine guns, 189 artillery limbers, 34 searchlights and a large quantity of other material."

"On the Dvina, German artillery violently bombarded the region of the Kolki bridgehead and the northern sector of the Jacobstadt positions."

"On Tuesday night the Germans, after an intense bombardment of our positions, succeeded in penetrating our trenches, but were driven back to their own lines by a counter attack."

"In other sectors of this region all enemy attempts to attack were repulsed either by our fire or by the bayonet."

"Enemy aeroplanes dropped about 40 bombs on the Kolki station."

"At 3 o'clock on the morning of June 20, there were some isolated encounters and violent artillery duels at different points. Our scouts ambushed and shot down a strong enemy delivery outpost."

"In the direction of Mosul, in the region of Dubatowka, the Russian troops, including Georgian tribesmen, put to flight a strong band of Kurds, who left a large number of dead."

"In the direction of Bagdad, Turks were driven by Cossacks from the region of Kola-y-Shabab."

RUSSIANS CHECKED, GERMANS REPORT.

Berlin, June 21.—(Via London).—Russian forces which crossed the Stokhod river and were driven back by a counter attack, the official statement of the war office today announced, strongly resisted the German advance.

"Official announcement follows: 'Eastern front: Our attacks north and south of Dvinsk, in the region of Dubatowka, and on both sides of Krewo, produced good results. In the region of Dubatowka, the Russian positions were overrun. More than 200 soldiers, some machine guns and a number of other material were captured. The enemy suffered heavy losses. The situation on the front of Prince Leopold is unchanged.'

"Army group of General von Linzinger: Near Grusiatyn, west of Kolki, Russian forces which had crossed the Sty were driven back by a counter attack and attacks of the enemy were repulsed. Northwest of Lutsk the enemy strongly resisted our advance. The attacks stopped at the river. Near Grusiatyn the Russians lost about 1,000 men who were made prisoner. We also are advancing south of the Dvina."

Paris, June 21.—A violent attack on the French positions northwest of Rheims was made by the Germans last night at Hill No. 108 and in the direction of Berry-au-Bac, according to an official statement issued by the war office today. The attack was repulsed by the French artillery.

The Germans exploded two mines before launching their infantry against the French trenches. Their repulse was due, the statement says, to the effectiveness of the French screen fire.

In the Verdun sector no infantry action was reported, but a mutual bombardment was maintained during the night.

The statement follows: "South of the Somme, before Maucourt, a detachment of the enemy which attempted to approach our lines was aspersed with rifle fire. Northwest of Rheims the Germans, after exploding two mines, delivered an attack against the trenches at Hill 108, south of Berry-au-Bac. Checked by our screen of fire, this attack was defeated completely."

The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads: "On the left bank of the Meuse a German attack against new trenches conquered by us on June 15, on the morning of the 16th, was repulsed. The German attack was completely arrested by our fire."

"There was an intermittent cannonading on the rest of the front points, especially north of Dixmude. There was some fighting in the direction of Steenstraete."

"Aviation: On the night of June 20, 21, one of our bombing groups dropped 210 shells on the station at Arnaville and 276 on the military establishments and the Metz station generally. The destruction of those who come to this country to take part in the life of real freedom is his life."

A British aeroplane plunged to earth near Verdun, northwest of Bapaume, having been brought down by the fire of our heavy aircraft guns. One of the occupants of the machine was killed. # AD MEN LEAVE FOR CONVENTION

First Party of Delegates Leaves City Today to Attend Meeting of World's Ad Clubs at Philadelphia.

Headed by P. C. McDuffie, president of the Ad Men's club, the first delegation of Atlanta's representatives to the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in convention at Philadelphia, June 26, will leave for Atlantic City today at 2:30 o'clock. The delegation, and it is said, will be one of the largest.

There's one Englishman in the United States who realizes that America is always first in the hearts of those who have lived under the Stars and Stripes, and as a result, he has signed his name to the roster of a company who will go to the Mexican border, and there he will fight for the sake of the country of his adoption.

The Britisher is Arthur H. Thomas, quartermaster sergeant of Company F, Fifth regiment, state of Georgia and city of Atlanta. Sergeant Thomas came to America some time ago, and since his arrival here has become a full-fledged American. There is nothing hyphenated about the sergeant, either, except his title.

There's another interesting part of the thing is that a Georgia Cracker, one of the beauties of the state, is responsible for the "conversion." Her name is Mrs. Arthur H. Thomas, and she proved to Sergeant Thomas that America is a better place than the old country of those who come to this country to take part in the life of real freedom.

Sergeant Thomas has been in America so long and has formed so many intimate connections here that he says he feels himself to be an American to the core.

"Under the Stars and Stripes, rather than the Union Jack," says the officer.

Sergeant Thomas came to America fifteen years ago, and when he reached the soil of Georgia he found it a "home." With all the tenacity of the Englishman, he pressed his attentions until the Georgia girl accepted him, and now he is a true American.

In the interval between the time he left England and the present he states that he has become a real, honest-to-goodness American, and to prove it all he is going to the border with his company to aid as best he can the cause of the country of his adoption.

"FLAG OF ALL NATIONS" SHRINE BALL FEATURE

First and Only Chance for the Public to Get a Glimpse of Shrine Temple.

With war in Europe and rumors of a home, a patriotic interest attached to the "Flag of All Nations," feature of the Shrine Temple's annual ball which will be given at the Shrine Temple tonight. This feature made such a hit at the Shrine Temple that the paraphernalia and costumes for it were borrowed by the Shrine Temple for the Shrine Temple ball.

Many of the members of Yaarab patrol and band belong to the Fifth regiment, and this will be their last appearance with the Shrine organization in public before leaving for the camp at Macao.

Never before and perhaps never again will the general public of Atlanta have an opportunity to witness such a gorgeous Oriental pageant as that planned for tonight. The cost of this production is so great that once it is completely dismantled even the members of Yaarab Temple will not again behold its equal. LuLu Temple of Philadelphia, which classes as one of the greatest temples in North America, has never attempted anything so elaborate, and the members of LuLu who were present at the June ceremonial were awed by the grandeur of the decorations and the pageant attending the entrance of the illustrious Potentate.

"Razzah Shize," the burlesque organization which will furnish the fun of the second part of the entertainment, held a dress rehearsal last night, and Director Wyle West, who is also the Disasters Rottelette of the blackface organization, declared himself highly pleased with the performance of the amateur comedians.

One of the best bands in the city has been engaged to play for the entertainment, and the officers of the Daughters of Omphale, the paraphernalia all ready to initiate those ladies of Atlanta who wish to join this organization.

If you miss this show you will have missed your one and only chance to see what a temple of the Mystic Shrine is like.

ED HAYS MAY NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION AS BUILDING HEAD

According to reliable information Ed R. Hays, city building inspector, will not be a candidate for re-election in the coming primary. He is now preparing a statement giving his reasons for withdrawing from the race and will issue it for publication in the next day or two. It is understood that he will refuse to run because of the lack of co-operation between council and his office.

C. J. Bowen, first assistant to the building inspector, has announced his formal candidacy for the office. He will issue his platform and make known his ticket in the next few days. It is said that he has already decided on the men who will be on the ticket. Mr. Bowen has been connected with the inspector's office for some time. He was a member of council during 1905 and 1906. He has been a resident of the city for years and is well known here.

GOODRICH COMPANY WILL PAY SODDIER EMPLOYEES

Guardsmen Working for Tire Firm to Receive Salary During Service for Uncle Sam.

Employees of the B. F. Goodrich company in every city where the organization maintains an office, who are members of the national guard, have been assured by a circular telegram from their superiors that should they be called to military duty, they will not be permitted to suffer from want of funds during their absence.

Also, the company has worked out a schedule whereby the difference between the salaries of militiamen in the company's employ and the government's pay for military duty will be in large measure paid by the Goodrich company, so that military service will result in little, if any, financial loss to them.

The telegram, directed to each branch manager, follows in full:

To Receive Financial Worry.
"The executive committee of the Goodrich company gives notice to all the corporation's employees who are active in state military and naval organizations that in so far as possible to relieve from financial worry those of our employees who are subject to military duty and also as an expression of desire to encourage them to make substantial recognition of this opportunity to co-operate with their employers in carrying out their share of the common duty of all to answer the national call for military assistance."

This announcement applies to all employees of this company formerly enlisted as members in good standing in any state military or naval organization, as of Monday, June 19, 1916, and who are accepted by the proper military officers for active service in the present campaign. In case of orders being issued by the military authorities for the enlistment of employees mentioned above for actual military duty, necessitating absence from the regular duties of this company, compensation will be awarded as follows:

How Company Will Pay.
"After allowance being made for payment for service by government or state or from any other source, the direct result of military service, the company will pay as military compensation the difference between such sources of income and the following: To married men and single men contributing regularly to the support of actual dependents, two-thirds of their average salary or wage based on their previous average salary or wage earned during the three months preceding their absence. To all single or married men not contributing regularly to the support of actual dependents, one-half of their average salary or wage."

"Thus an employee with dependents whose average wage for three months has been $100 per month and who receives $15 per month from the government will be granted military compensation from this company of $85 per month. Payment of military compensation will be paid directly to the dependent, and upon the request of men without dependents will be held in trust by the company until the return of the employee."

The period of absence on military duty will not be considered a breach in the continuity of service as affecting our life insurance or pension regulations, but such time of absence will be included in the company service record of each employee the same as if he had not engaged in military service."

During such absence of an employee the life insurance issued to him by the company will remain in full force and effect. "Discrimination will not be made in any manner against any employee upon his return from military service, and as far as possible arrangements will be made for each man to return to his former position."

The above conditions will apply to employees whose extent of absence is one year or less continuously in state military or naval service, but the privilege of the company is recognized to make such modifications, extensions or abrogations of these conditions at any future time as may appear advisable."

STRUCK BY NEGRO WITHOUT WARNING, MAN IS BADLY HURT

As he was walking down Decatur street early Tuesday night, T. E. Stevens, 37-year-old resident of 83 Hendrix avenue, was knocked in the head and probably seriously injured by an unidentified negro who picked up a chair from the sidewalk and hit Stevens with it.

Bystanders picked Stevens up and carried him into a nearby store. The Grady hospital ambulance was then called and the injured man sent to the hospital.

Examining physicians stated that he had sustained a slight fracture of the skull.

Call Officers Wade and McDaniel, from police headquarters, gave chase to the negro. They were unable to capture him, but all members of the force were given a lookout for him late Tuesday night.

Witnesses to the affair stated to the officers that the attack was unprovoked and as sudden as it was surprising.

Detectives Claim They Have Caught Modern Wallingford

Interesting developments in an alleged fraudulent pawnshop system, carried on by Atlanta pawnbrokers were brought to light Wednesday when the trials of two large office properties were set for Thursday morning by Detectives Rosser and Gorman.

Cases have been made against B. Klein and Joe Weiner, of Weiner's office, 112 Decatur street, as well as against A. J. Gonzales, of 164 Ivy street, who, detectives state, is agent for the pawnshop system.

The game which is alleged to have been operated by the three consists of the pawnbroker pawning his own goods, employing men to dispose of the tickets at a price greater than the amount loaned on the article, thus making three profits.

Gonzales, declare detectives, sold to R. Stanley, an automobile dealer of 311 Peachtree street, a pawn ticket for a diamond ring which was stated had been pawned by Brothers, 19 Peachtree street, for $140.

Charged with having represented to Stanley that the ring was worth three times that amount and with having secured $250 on it, detectives claim that they can prove that Gonzales is in the employ of pawn dealers, and that the tickets are given him to dispose of.

A thorough probe of the business has been ordered by Chief Lanford, and it is thought that startling revelations will appear.

$4,000 Is Raised For Belgian Relief Fund by Dr. May

Sells Cotton for $150 a Pound at Allies' Million-Dollar Bazar.

Dr. F. E. May, executive secretary of the Georgia War Relief Committee for France and Her Allies, has recently returned from New York city, where he has been during the past several weeks in the interests of this state at the "Allies' Million-Dollar Bazar," which has been held in the Grand Central palace.

Dr. May was in charge of the Georgia booth at the bazar, and during the time which it lasted, succeeded in raising over $4,000 as Georgia's contribution to the cause for which it was held.

The bazar was held under the auspices of the National Allied Relief Commission, and the War Relief Clearing House, and was the means of raising over $1,000,000 for the benefit of women and children of the warring nations.

At the Georgia booth two little negro pickaninnies sold miniature bales of cotton, as well as other small trinkets, all symbolic of this state. Dr. May estimates that he sold over 50 pounds of cotton at the rate of $150 a pound, the highest price which that commodity has ever brought on any market of the world.

Chief among the interesting events of the bazar was a "Dixie day," which was observed in honor of Dr. May and the states of Georgia and Louisiana, which he represented.

At the Georgia booth ambassadors of many foreign countries represented in the United States called during Dixie day to purchase a souvenir of the south, as well as many Georgians and Southerners who were in New York at the time the bazar was being held.

"It was a wonderful success," stated Dr. May, in talking yesterday of the big event. "There were people attending from all parts of the United States."

"Georgia was honored as was no other state, and the booth held by this state was declared to be one of the most original and interesting throughout the palace."

HELD FOR HOBOING ON WAY TO ATLANTA FOR ARMY SERVICE

There are three patriotic sons of Georgia now languishing in the Cartersville jail as a result of their haste to reach Atlanta to recruit in the Fifth regiment.

Captain J. H. Quillian, of Company H, received a wire from Nashville Tuesday from a former member of his company asking if he would be reinstated if he returned to Atlanta. Captain Quillian wired for the ex-private to hurry to the city.

Wednesday morning the captain received another telegram from the former trooper. It came from Cartersville, but the man had been dispatched from the county jail, where the youth had been arrested for stealing a ride on a freight train bound for Atlanta.

The wire read:

"Calhoosed for hoboing to Atlanta. Come get me out. Also have two reserves with me."

Captain Quillian got in touch with Cartersville authorities and learned that the former soldier, when arrested, was accompanied by two companions, former Georgians.

Military authorities will obtain their release this morning and the prisoners will be brought to Atlanta for enlistment.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Foreth.)
Just about the right proportion of singing, dancing and comedy makes up the "Four Husbands" musical comedy which is one of the features of the Keith vaudeville bill at the Foreth this week. Seldom has a more stunning actress appeared here than Betty Caldwell, who has the leading role, and the girls who make up the chorus are real prize winners. Some of the songs are "There's a Rose in the Garden of Girls," "Goodbye, Wonderful Girl," and "Temptation," which is a story of a girl who is in a different style garb interpretive of some ailment calculated to tempt man.

"Susie Snowflake."

(At the Piedmont.)
Ann Pennington, the celebrated little Broadway star, makes her motion picture debut in the Famous Players' production, "Susie Snowflake," which is the Paramount attraction at the Piedmont today, Friday and Saturday. Known all over the country as a dancer and comedienne, Miss Pennington has been wisely starred in a photograph which is a story of a girl who is in a different style garb interpretive of some ailment calculated to tempt man.

"Damaged Goods" Remains.

(At the Georgian.)
On account of the tremendous audiences that have been in attendance throughout the picture's engagement, the management of the Georgian theater has announced last night that "Damaged Goods," the national wide film series, which is held under the remainder of the week. Hundreds have been unable to obtain admission because of the overflow crowd. "Damaged Goods" has broken all photograph records in Atlanta and is deemed to draw thousands more during the remainder of its engagement. It is the play that reformed the nation and one of the strongest dramas ever produced on screen or stage. The same prices will prevail.

"The Dividend."

(At the Vaudeville.)
"An unusually powerful drama" is what the unbiased critic of the Motion Picture News calls "The Dividend," a Thomas H. Ince production which is held under the Vaudeville today and Friday, with William H. Thompson and Charles Ray in the leading roles. "The Dividend" is the story of a money-crazed millionaire whose insatiable greed causes him to neglect his son, with the result that the boy slides easily into dissipation and finally becomes an outcast and a dope fiend. Some of the dive scenes, says the critic of the News, should have been omitted, but the picture as a whole has a wholesome moral appeal. With it at the Vaudeville will be a new Keystone comedy.

NO MOTOR MAIL ROUTES EXCEPT ON GOOD ROADS

County Road Officials to Be Judges as to Character of Highways.

Washington, June 21.—An amendment to the postal appropriation bill limiting discretion of the postoffice department in establishing motor mail delivery routes was adopted today by the senate without a roll call after it had been voted in order 37 to 13.

It was objection to this amendment which led Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakelee to write letters to postmasters charging the senate committee with having "surrendered to the railroads."

The amendment requires the department, before establishing a motor route, to obtain a certificate from county road officials that the roads to be traversed warrant practically uninterrupted service throughout the year. It would not affect motor routes now established.

The committee's amendment referring the railway mail pay question to the interstate commerce commission for report was debated without action. Mr. Blakelee's criticism of the committee, which extended also to its course in framing the railway mail pay amendment already has resulted in an informal appeal by committee members to Postmaster General Burleson and several senators are considering calling it to the attention of President Wilson.

Scenes at the Basket Picnic Given at Lakewood By Atlanta Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday

So enjoyable was the picnic given Wednesday at Lakewood that the chamber will probably make it an annual event. One of the features of the day was the baseball game, and a number of other contests. In the top picture Asa G. Candler and Walter Andrews are shown playing a friendly little game of "craps." The bones did not have time to get hot, however, before two policemen interfered. In the bottom picture V. H. Kriegshaber, president of the chamber, is trying to steal home. Not having mastered the slide, however, he proves an easy out for Dr. Henry Alford Porter, pastor of the Second Baptist church. W. H. White is shown on the coaching line, urging President Kriegshaber to "hit the dirt."

HENRY C. BROWN HEADS COTTON SEED CRUSHERS

Law Wins Golf Tournament.
Convention Comes to Close.

Tybee, Ga., June 21.—(Special.)—Henry C. Brown, of Augusta, was today elected president of the Cotton Seed Crushers' Association of Georgia, for the ensuing year. W. M. Hutchinson, of Macon, vice president, and E. P. Chivers, of Atlanta, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The crushers' golf tournament prizes were won by T. C. Law, of Atlanta, first; George Elton, of Savannah, second, and Harry Hodgson, of Athens, third. Resolutions commending the work of the Georgia Manufacturers' association, and urging the individual mills to join were unanimously adopted. A handsome silver service was presented to Retiring President Ponder by the association, in a speech by Harry Hodgson, to which a feeling response was made by Mr. Ponder.

This session closed the most successful convention the association has ever held.

The most interesting addresses were delivered at this concluding session, the first of which was by F. W. McKee, of Atlanta, on "The Atlanta Commercial Exchange." A detailed explanation of the operation of this exchange was entered into, and the opportunity which it offers to this kindred industry was pointed out.

"Delinting Cotton Seed Hulls—A Process," was the subject of an address by J. Wayne Moore, of East Point, Ga., and this address, too, was attended with the keenest interest. The reports of the various standing committees were read and adopted.

Many of the delegates will remain at Tybee and Savannah for a few days, but the majority leave for their various homes tonight.

PROMINENT CLUB LEADER DIED ON WEDNESDAY

Profits, or Just Salary?

Is your business paying you REAL profits, or just an ordinary salary?

If the latter alone, you might almost as well be working for somebody else.

You are looking for a return over and above a mere salary. If you are not getting it, why not?

A correct audit will tell you and put you on the road to the profits your business merits.

THIS HAPPENS SOMETIMES

An owner has acquired through foreclosure a 20-foot business lot on a prominent thoroughfare, and is willing to sell the lot at cost, thus realizing the exact amount of the debt plus selling expenses.

The lot figures up $2,390; it would be all right to buy and put up a cheap building on for moderate income at present; with good prospects of future increase in value.

Business Conditions

of the present day make necessary more frequent reckonings than formerly. Today the prudent man knows monthly or at least quarterly his financial standing as shown by his records. Few business men are content to stay "in the dark" for twelve months. Modern necessities almost compel the installation of an Accounting System.

Welch's

The National Drink

Supper over—it's pleasant to sit comfortably on your porch. To sit and chat with your friends and your neighbors.

But keep Welch's handy. For along about ten o'clock there'll come a lull in the conversation. It's then that throats are driest—and it's then that Welch's is most welcome.

Thirsts yield to the fruity tartness of Welch's. It cools, refreshes, satisfies. It does not tax digestion.

Men, women and children all like Welch's—like its tang, its flavor, and no wonder—for it's the unchanged juice of the Welch premium-price Concord grapes—the choicest grapes Mother Earth provides.

Delicious, too, when combined with ginger ale, carbonated water, lemonade or made into sherbet.

But be sure to get Welch's. Buy it by the bottle, 10c and up. At grocers, druggists and confectioners.

Write for free booklet,
"Welch's Ways." Ninety-nine ways to serve Welch's.
